GERMANY CALLED UPON TO TOE THE LINE BY AMERICA

Note Reiterating Demand of United States for Reparation Goes Forward.

IS IN FRIENDLY TERMS

But Firmly States Attitude of This Country — Published Tomorrow Morning.

Washington, June 9.—The United States today sent to Germany a note reiterating its demand for reparation for the loss of American lives in the sinking of the Lusitania and setting forth clearly the earnest desire of the American government that Germany signify her early adherence to the principles of international law—that neutrals be permitted to travel on unarmed ships without being subject to the dangers of submarine warfare.

Couched in much more friendly terms than it was believed would be used when the unsatisfactory answer to the American note of May 13 arrived from Germany, the communication was cabled to American Ambassador Gerard for presentation to the German foreign office. It will be given out tomorrow night for publication in morning papers of Friday.

As the all-important document on which President Wilson and his advisers have worked for ten days went forth, it had behind it the united support of the cabinet. The one man who had opposed its terms because he believed it might precipitate war—William J. Bryan—had resigned the portfolio of Secretary of State at the moment the note was dispatched.

Bryan Issued Statement.

A statement issued by Mr. Bryan revealed that President Wilson had rejected his suggestion for an investigation by a commission for a year's time of the legal phase of the dispute with Germany before Americans should, according to Mr. Bryan's view, be warned against taking passage on any belligerent ships or on American vessels carrying ammunition.

President Wilson made no comment on the statement, but the text of the note, it was stated, would outline fully the position of the President and the cabinet.

The President stands unalterably, it was stated, on the principle that the United States at this stage in its history can not afford to surrender any of its rights; that the American people had fought in 1812 for their rights on the high seas and could not sacrifice these rights with the nation's rise and growth to a position of command as a world power.

High officials generally held the view that Mr. Bryan's statement constituted a virtual surrender of American rights guaranteed not only by international law, but by specific treaties between the United States and Germany. Mr. Bryan's suggestion that Americans do not take passage on American ships carrying ammunition was in direct conflict, it was pointed out, with the treaty of 1828 between Prussia and the United States wherein either party in time of war is given the right to free access to belligerent ports for commerce in arms and ammunition and other contraband. Moreover, the right of an American citizen to sail on an unarmed and unresisting merchant ship of any nationality in time of war is held by the President and his advisers to be an inalienable privilege founded on the international law of centuries.

President's View.

The President's view is understood to be that a new weapon of offense in warfare can be introduced only if it is made to conform with the generally established rules of international law existing. The conditions of war may change, he has said, but not the rules of war unless there is a general agreement among the nations which contributed to the making of international law.

Mr. Wilson, it became known, is not opposed to the idea of an investigation or diplomatic discussion of cases in dispute between Germany and the United States but feels that before such a step can be taken some guarantee must be given that in the interim of discussion the lives of American citizens will not be jeopardized and that the United States will not be required to yield any of its rights while the discussion is under way.

It is a repetition of attacks on American vessels or lives which the President believes must be prevented by an assertion of the rights of the United States and the attainment of Germany's acquiescence in that point of view before diplomatic negotiations on the subject can continue.

The note cabled to Germany, it was said authoritatively, leaves room in many respects for a friendly reply, but contains firm insistence on the principles expressed in the American notes of February 10th and May 13th.

The President has requested that detailed forecasts of the note be not printed in advance of the publication of the official text.

Believes Wilson Wrong.

"I believe you are wrong and that I can convince you of it," Mr. Bryan is quoted as having said with a smile in his farewell interview with the President today. He told Mr. Wilson he believed he could be of service in the country by securing an expression of the peaceful desires of the nation and help to prevent war.

Later when Mr. Bryan's statement appeared, comment in high official quarters still was friendly toward Mr. Bryan personally but sharp issue was taken with his interpretation of what the note to Germany actually contain-

COMMENT OF EUROPEAN PRESS ON RESIGNATION OF WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Causes Deep Stir in Germa... But Press Forbidden to Comment—Produces Profo... Impression in Italy—London Paper Says: "...eans That America Has Crossed the Rul..."—Other Viewpoints.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D. C.

London, June 9.—Surfeited as the British public has been with war sensations, Secretary Bryan's resignation has created unusual interest and discussion and has given a wholly unexpected turn to political events in America.

The British press has shown a strong disposition recently to refrain from comment on the affairs of all neutrals which might seem in the nature of advice or dictation. Nevertheless President Wilson's policy has been watched with the greatest eagerness.

All the afternoon newspapers give their largest headlines to Mr. Bryan and the pracards on the streets call the event "American Crisis."

"One of the most decisive events of the world conflict," is what the Evening Star calls the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan.

"Coming after the heroic decision of Italy to draw her sword in defense of liberty and the public law of Europe," The Star says, "it is a death blow to the Germanic powers. It means that America has crossed the Rubicon. It means that the greatest democracy on earth has resolved to be true to itself and to its ideals. It means that Germany will be held to a 'strict accountability' for her violations of human sanctitudes. It means that the American people will defend civilization against barbarism; international law against submarine piracy and right against conscienceless might. It means that Germany must choose between obedience to the ancient code of sacred justice, and the new code of satanic devilry. It means that America will omit no act which is necessary to cleanse the seas of the Prussian wolves and tigers who prey upon women and children

Believed in Wilson.

"We have always proclaimed our belief in the President. Wilson would find a way and that it would be a great way. He has given Germany ample time to relent and to refrain. He has for ten long months watched Germany marching from horror to horror and from hell to hell.

"He did not protest against the awful crime of Belgian invasion with its unnamable butcheries and it unspeakable abominations. He waited with a noble patience, which, to nations in agony, seemed to border on perfidy. He strove to the last against the cruel implacability of Kaiserism and Kultur. He labored to save Germany from her helmeted tyrants and to pursuade her to re-trace her bloodstained steps.

"History will bear witness to the purity of his motives, and humanity to his aims."

Commenting on this statement that Secretary Bryan differed with President Wilson regarding methods, The Evening Star says that Mr. Bryan's methods "are those which enabled Germany to pursue her policy of frightfulness for ten months," and that President Wilson's methods "involve deeds as well as words; action as well as talk."

In conclusion, The Evening Star says:

"The issue is now clear and clean. Germany must face the certitude of American fixity of purpose. If she pursues her submarine policy America will make good her warning. Germany must choose and choose at once. There is still a bare chance of peace if Germany will bow before the law of nations which America has slowly and reluctantly, but resolutely sworn to uphold.

"If she stiffens her neck and hardens her heart there can only be one outcome."

SURPRISE IN GERMANY

Some Take Attitude That Bryan Wanted Sharper Note Than Sent.

Berlin, (via London), June 10.—The resignation of the American Secretary of State has caused great surprise here and opinions as to the reasons which led Mr. Bryan to take this step are very different.

The Mittag Zeitung assumes that Mr. Bryan wanted a sharper note against Germany than President Wilson was willing to sanction, but it does not expect a friendly attitude toward Germany from the President. The paper concludes:

"It must be growing clear to some of the leading men in America that America is playing an unenviable role in following in England's wake. America will certaily have no success with us by adopting England's stalwart tone.

"Mr. Bryan and Mr. Wilson are engaged in giving consideration to the case. Th emore thoroughly they do it, all the better it will be for America."

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam says:

"The news of the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan become known in Germany at noon today and cause a deep stir. The foreign office ordered the newspapers to refrain from commenting on the resignation until further notice."

SLIM CHANCE FOR PEACE

Paris Papers Say Germany Must Choose Quickly to Prevent Trouble.

Paris, June 9.—The news of the resignation of Secretary Bryan which reached Paris too late last night for comment by the morning papers, is given great prominence in the evening editions, which publish detailed sketches of his career.

The Midi refers to the retiring Secretary as "a pacifist at any price" and says his resignation should be regarded as a striking warning to Germany.

"President Wilson," this paper continues ,"has developed a degree of firmness of which he was not believed capable. Happen what may, the situation is becoming clearer. Let us hope that Berlin will appreciate its grave significance."

L'Information says:

"President Wilson in maintaining his ideals has not let the realities escape him. The American character is capable of firmness and resolution and its determinations will not be without consequence.

PROFOUND IMPRESSION AT MILAN

ONE MORE CHANCE FOR LEO. M. FRANK

Fate of Condemned Man Now Rests With State Governor.

PRISON BOARD ACTS

Recommends That Death Sentence Not be Commuted to Life Imprisonment.—Vote of Board Was Two to One.

Atlanta, June 9.—The state prison commission, by a vote of two to one, today recommended to Governor Slaton that Leo Frank's death sentence be not commuted to life imprisonment. A further hearing on the case, however, will be held by the governor, with whom rests the final decision.

Governor Slaton announced tonight that he would confer tomorrow with counsel for the prisoner and the state as to the hearing. Frank's counsel will ask that an immediate date be fixed. The appeal to the governor is Frank's last fight against his execution, which is set for June 22nd next.

Former Congressman Howard will conduct Frank's case before the governor and Solicitor General Dorsey will oppose clemency. Mr. Howard said tonight he proposed to argue that the record in the case shows the evidence against the prisoner was circumstantial and that this ,together with the trial judge's doubt of Frank's guilt, was sufficient to warrant the executive in extending clemency. Mr. Dorsey declined to outline the points he planned to emphasize in his argument.

Opposed Commutation.

The majority report of the prison commission, opposing commutation, held that neither the grand jurors who indicted Frank, the trial jury nor the prosecutors had asked for commutation; that all the courts, state and Federal, which reviewed the case had upheld the verdict; that no new evidence or facts bearing upon the prisoner's guilt or innocence had been shown, and that they saw no reason to interfere with the court's judgment.

The dissenting report held that the evidence against Frank was circumstantial; that the trial judge entertained doubt of the prisoner's guilt and that the record in the case justified the governor in commuting the sentence.

The majority report of the commission was as follows:

"None of the grand jury who found the indictment; none of the trial jurors, who heard the evidence under oath, nor the prosecuting attorneys have asked that the sentence be commuted. The judge who presided at the trial and who had the right to exercise the discretion of fixing the penalty at either life imprisonment or death, imposed the latter sentence and overruled a motion for a new trial.

"Several appeals were taken to both the appellate court of the state and the Supreme Court of the United States, all of which were denied and the judgments of the lower courts affirmed thus assuring the defendant of his legal and constitutional rights under the laws of the land. It further appears that there has been no technical proposition of law or of procedure that has prevented the petitioner from having his guilt or innocence passed upon by a jury of his peers and by the highest constituted appellate authorities, and no new evidence or facts bearing upon his guilt or innocence having been shown, we see no reason for taking this case out of the ordinary rules of law and ffiustice and feel constrained not to interfere with the enforcement or the orderly judgment of the courts."

WILLIAM J. BRYAN NOW PRIVATE CITIZEN AND GIVES THE REASON WHY

Intends to Lay His View of What American Policy Toward Germany Should be Before the People for Judgment—Would Offer to Arbitrate, and Would Warn Americans From Travelling on Belligerent Ships.

Washington, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan retired today as Secretary of State. His first act as a private citizen was to issue a statement explaining his reasons for leaving the cabinet and announcing that he intended to lay his view of what the American policy toward Germany should be before the public for judgment.

The statement came as a sensational climax to a day of farewell speeches and good wishes from President Wilson and executive colleagues of the retiring Secretary.

In his explanation, Mr. Bryan revealed that the President had not felt justified in adopting two suggestions made by his Secretary of State—that an offer should be made to Germany to submit the questions in dispute with the United States to an international commission for investigation during a year's time and that meanwhile Americans should by proclamation be warned not to take passage on any belligerent ships or on American vessels carrying ammunition. These propositions Mr. Bryan expects to urge upon the people "in the hope of securing such an expression of public sentiment as will support the President in employing these remedies if in the future he finds it consistent with his sense of duty to favor them."

Undisguised Amazement.

Mr. Bryan's statement was received with undisguised amazement in official quarters. No comment was made at the White House but some high officials indicated that they believed it most unfortunate that so profound an expression of opinion should be made public while the discussion with Germany was in progress. It became known, too, that Mr. Bryan told his colleagues in a general way of the contents of his statement and some had advised against it.

The principle advocated by Mr. Bryan is embodied in treaties of peace negotiations by the United States with 30 nations and was accepted by Germany, although no convention ever was drafted. The statement is a condensation of the argument which Secretray Bryan has been making repeatedly to President Wilson in the last few weeks, and upon which he hopes to build up a public sentiment in the United States that will make war with Germany impossible.

The text of the statement follows:

Text of the Statement.

"My reasons for resigning is clearly stated in my letter of resignation, namely, that I may employ as a private citizen the means which the President does not feel at liberty to employ. I honor him for doing what he believes to be right, and I am sure that he desires, as I do, to find a peaceful solution of the problem which has been created by the action of the submarines.

"Two of the points on which we differ, each conscintious in conviction are, first, as to the suggestion of investigation by an international commission, and second as to warning Americans against traveling on belligerent vessels or with cargoes of ammunition. I believe that this nation should frankly state to Germany that we are willing to apply in this case the principle which w are bound by treaty to apply to disputes between the United States and the 30 countries with which we have made treaties providing for investigation of all disputes of every character and nature. These treaties, negotiated under this administration, make war practically impossible between this country and these 30 governments, representing nearly three-fourths of all the people of the world.

Treaties With Allies.

"Among the nations with which we have these treaties, are Great Britain, France and Russia. No matter what disputes may arise between us, and these treaty nations, we agree that there shall be no declaration of war and no commencement of hostilities until the matter in dispute have been investigated by an international commission, and a year's time is allowed for investigation and report. This plan was offered to all the nations without any exceptions whatever, and Germany was one of the nations that accepted the principle, being the 12th I think to accept. No treaty was actually entered into with Germany, but I cannot see that that should stand in the way when nations endorsed the principle. I do not know whether Germany would accept the offer, but our country should, in my judgment make the offer.

"Such an offer, if accepted, would at once relieve the tension and silence all the jingoes who are demanding war. Germany has always been a friendly nation and a great many of our people are of German ancestry. Why should we not deal with Germany according to this plan to which the nation has pledged its support?

"The second point of difference is as to the course which should be pursued in regard to Americans traveling on belligerent ships or with cargoes of ammunition.

Should Consider Country.

"Why should an American citizen be permitted to involve his country in war by traveling upon a belligerent ship when he knows that the ship will pass through a danger zone? The question is not whether an American citizen has a right, under international law, to travel on a belligerent ship; the question is whether he ought not, out of consideration for his country, if not for his own safety, avoid danger when avoidance is possible.

"It is a very one-sided citizenship that compels a government to go to war over a citizen's rights and yet relieve the citizen of all obligations to consider his nation's welfare. I do not know just how far the President can legally ago in actually preventing Americans from traveling on belligerent ships, but I believe the government should go as far as it can, and that in case of doubt, it should give the benefit of the doubt to the government.

"But even if the government could not legally prevent citizens from traveling on belligerent ships it could and in my judgment should, earnestly advise American citizens not to risk themselves or the peace of their country, and I have no doubt that these warnings would be heeded.

"President Taft advised Americans to leave Mexico when insurrection broke out there, and President Wilson has repeated the advice. This advice, in my judgment, was eminently wise and I think the same course should be followed in regard to warning Ameri-

EUROPE FORGETS RAGING BATTLES TO WATCH THE U. S.

Resignation of Bryan and Nature of Note Transcend in Interest All Else.

"AMERICA STANDS FIRM"

Even News That German Submarine Sunk, Forced to Take Second Place.

London, June 9.—The resignation of William J. Bryan and the nature of the American note to Germany which brought it about transcend in interest all else bearing on the war.

London papers give Mr. Bryan's letter of resignation and President Wilson's reply the most prominent place. These are followed by long dispatches from American correspondents and articles on Bryan's career, which emphasize his advocacy of settlement of international disputes by arbitration and draw the conclusion that the note must be strong to have brought about his retirement.

"America stands firm," or similar phrases are the most favored headings and also the text of editorials commenting on the latest developments in the American-German relations.

Even the news that another German submarine had been sunk and the announcement by Mr. Balfour, first lord of of the admiralty, of a change in the British policy respecting the treatment of German submarine prisoners had to take second place in the day's events.

Submarine prisoners in future are to be treated as other prisoners, it was announced.

British Change Policy.

This change in policy has been expected for some time. Winston Spencer Churchill, the former first lord announced on March 8 that prisoners rescued from German submarines would not be accorded the "honorable treatment" extended to other prisoners, a number of the members of the house of commons expressed their disapproval and anticipated reprisals which the Germans took against British officers imprisoned in Germany. Steps will be taken through the American embassy to inform the German government of this change in the British policy, in the hope that British officers suffering solitary confinement will be given the same treatment as other prisoners.

Another important announcement in the house of commons was that of the premier, who stated that the casualties among the British expeditionary forces on the continent and in the Mediterranean amounted to more than a quarter of a million men. A little less than half of these casualties occurred since April 11, the date of the last statement. Up to that time the monthly average of casualties was about 17,400, but the fighting in Flanders and the Dardanelles in the seven weeks to the end of May brought the average for the ten months of the war up to nearly 26,000, or more than 860 daily. There still are the casualties suffered by the navy and the naval division to be added to this total.

Battles in Galicia.

The battles in Galicia holds the center of the stage so far as engagements are concerned. The capture by the Austro-Germans of Stanislau shows that the offensive against the Russian left has been successful and that the Russians have been compelled to fall back to their defenses on the Dniester. In Easter Galicia along the rest of the line which follows the upper Dniester and thence eastward from Przemysl to the lower San they appear to be holding their own and are counter-attacking.

In the Baltic provinces the fighting continues with varying success first the Russians and then the Germans gaining the advantage.

The French according to the German admission have become entire masters of Neuville and are continuing their attacks in this region, as well as to the southwest of Arras and in the Woevre.

German submarines have torpedoed another steamer, the British collier Lady Salisbury, which was sent down near the Harwich lightship. The chief officer was killed and two men are missing.

There was little news from the Italian frontier. An official announcement from Rome said the Italian dirigible which attacked the Austrian port of Fiume yesterday caught fire and was lost. The crew is believed to have been saved and captured by the Austrians.

SOUTHERN CONGRESSMEN URGE THAT NOTE BE SENT BRITAIN

Cotton Interests Have Suffered Unjustifiably by Embargo.

Washington, June 9.—Representative Webb, of North Carolina, urged President Wilson today to send promptly a note to Great Britain covering the general subject of neutral rights as affected by the blockade of the Allies. Mr. Webb and other Southern members of Congress, in whose behalf he spoke, feel that the cotton interests have suffered unjustifiably as a result of th embargo.

No comment was made at the White house concerning what the President told Mr. Webb, but the latter advised friends later that Mr. Wilson had promised early action.

Washington, June 9. — Cotton was favored with good growing weather in the week just ended, the weather bureau's national weather and crop bulletin today stated.

RUMORS THAT DANIELS WOULD RESIGN ARE FLATLY DENIED

Secretary of the Navy Stands Firmly With Wilson in Attitude Taken.

Washington, June 9.—Reports that Secretary of the Navy Daniels had resigned or would do so were current today, but were flatly denied on all sides. The reports, it was said, grew out of the well known intimacy in national politics of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Daniels.

As a matter of fact, nine members of the cabinet stood solidly for the President's position as expressed in the note. Mr. Daniels was with those who differed with the Secretary of State.

Secretary Daniels late today said:

"I think the note the President is going to send is the note he ought to send and the country will stand behind him. Nine members of the cabinet are agreed that the President's position is right. In declining to sign the note I believe Secretary Bryan stood by his convictions."

Mr. Daniels reiterated his statement that he had not even thought of resigning as Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Daniels expressed regret at Mr. Bryan's resignation.

"I feel like all the other members of the cabinet," said Secretary Daniels. "I regret Mr. Bryan's resignation very much. Personally I regret it. I am very fond of Mr. Bryan. I think the President expressed the feeling of everybody. His own feelings are the feelings of all the members of the cabinet."

LANSING TAKES OVER DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Is Generally Believed He Will be Appointed Later.

Official Circles of Washington Discussing Many Possible Successors to W. J. Bryan as Head of Department of State.

Washington, June 9—No decision has been reached by President Wilson as to the choice of a successor to William Jennings Bryan as Secretary of State. He probably will not make a selection for several weeks.

In well informed quarters the belief was expressed that Robert Lansing, counsellor of the Department of State, who was commissioned today by the President as Secretary of State, ad interim, eventually would be given the permanent appointment.

Mr. Lansing took charge of the Department of State at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He did not move into the spacious quarters of the Secretary, remaining in the office occupied by the counsellor and his assistants. "It's a much cooler room," he remarked.

Notification was sent to all American embassies and legations abroad as well as members of the diplomatic corps here that Mr. Lansing had become Secretary of State ad interim. He is well known to the diplomatists, as he has been handling the legal side of most of the neutrality controversies that have arisen since the European war began.

Trenton, N. J., June 9. — The Amalgamated Copper Company, a New Jersey corporation, organized April 27, 1899, dissolved today. The authorized capital was $155,000,000, and the issued capital $153,387,900.

ANNOUNCE RULES FOR STATE BANKS

Regulating Memberships in the Federal Reserve System.

BOARD USES ITS POWER

Strength of the System Depends Upon the Character of the Member Banks and Not Upon Number, Declares the Board.

Washington, June 9.—Rules and regulations to govern the membership of state banks and trust companies in the Federal Reserve system were made public today by the Federal Reserve Board. In announcing the regulations, under which the right is reserved to exercise judgment and discretion in considering each individual application, the board said:

"Appreciating fully that the strength of the Federal Reserve System is to be measured by the quality and character of its members rather than by their number, the Federal Reserve Board is prepared to use the broad discretionary power vested in it by the Federal Reserve Act to bring about the co-ordination of the different types of banking institutions on a basis of equity and practicability. The board has sought in the regulations governing the admission of state banks and trust companies, to establish only such reasonable standards of admission as will be generally recognized as necessary to protect the Federal Reserve System and the National banks whose membership in the system is obligatory

STARS AND STRIPES AGAIN AT STAFF OF BRITISH SHIP

Leyland Line Steamer Flew American Flag, While in the War Zone.

Boston, Mass., June 9. — The British steamer Colonian, of the Leyland Line, flew the American flag for 40 hours as a protection against German submarines, while passing through the war zone, according to her commander, Captain J. McDonald.

The Colonian arrived today from Avonmouth, England.

It was on May 30th, Captain McDonald said, that he was hailed by a British patrol boat, two days out of Avonmouth, and told to "display the flag of a neutral nation or no flag at all."

He sent the Stars and Stripes up the staff immediately, he said. He explained that he used the American flag in preference to any other because he could back up his bluff if hailed by speaking in the English language, while if he used that of any other neutral nation, he would be unable to use the language of the flag.

As it developed, no submarines were sighted, the captain said.

This is said to be the first instance in which the American flag has been used by a trans-Atlantic steamer of belligerent nationality since President Wilson's note to England on the subject —provoked by the Lusitania's use of the flag last February.

Among the 130 passengers on the steamer, all of whom were men who had crossed to England as horse men, and had been given free transportation on the return, 90 were Americans. A small party of these said they tried to remove the flag from the Colonian's taffrail, lying awake two nights for the purpose, but the watchfulness of the crew frustrated their design.

MORE MIDSHIPMEN ARE NOW FACING CHARGES

As Result of Testimony Offered at Investigation.

Court of Inquiry Investigating Charges of Irregularities in Examinations at Naval Academy Going Deep Into Matter.

Annapolis, Md., June 9.—As a result of today's proceedings before the naval court of inquiry investigating irregularities in examinations at the Naval Academy, Ensign W. A. Confer who received his diploma last week, and Midshipman A. C. Rogers were made co-defendants with the seven midshipmen previously charged with "gouging." The two were involved, in the opinion of the court, through Commander Traut's testimony yesterday.

The commander, under cross examination today, expressed the opinion that Ensign H. H. Harrison, who graduated last week, was "guilty of irregular practice" in not notifying the authorities after learning tnat what he had received as "innocent dope" in reality was a copy of an examination paper. Also under cross examination he said that it was a suspicious circumstance that the handwriting of Ensign A. D. Struble was on a copy of an examination paper found inside the class room

TRINITY CONFERS DEGREES UPON 90

Dr. Owen Wister Delivers the Commencement Address.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

Fifty-Sixth Annual Commencement Concludes With Reception to Graduating Class—Alumni Address —Wiley Gray Medal.

Durham, N. C., June 9.—The reception in honor of the graduating class, which began at 9 o'clock tonight and continued until a late hour, concluded the programme of the 56th annual commencement of Trinity College. The reception followed the impressive ceremony of lowering the class flag, which took place at 7:23 o'clock this evening. The graduating exercises took place this morning in Craven Memorial hall, when degrees were conferred upon the class of 90 members, eight taking the degree of master of arts and 82 the bachelor of arts degree. The conferring of degrees were preceded by the commencement address by Owen Wister, LL.D., of Philadelphia, the noted author and traveler, who gave his impressions of Germany, received through his travels and studies of that country.

At 10:15 o'clock this morning the board of trustees, members of the faculty, the alumni and the graduating class assembled in front of the library and formed the procession, which proceeded to Craven Memorial hall for the graduating exercises.

The graduating class is composed of the following:

Owen Wister's Address.

Though completely pro-Ally, Mr. Wister has a profound admiration for Germany, which he visited for the first time when still a child. He says, "Almost always at the name of the town Cologne, the banks of the golden stream, the German Rhine, sweep into my sight as first I saw them long ago, and from a steamer's deck I watch again, and again count a train composed of 21 locomotives, moving ominous and sinister upon their new errand. That was July 14th, 1870. France had declared war upon Prussia that day. Mobilization was beginning be-

ALEXANDER APPEALS TO BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

For Supervisor of Co-Operation and Rural Credits

Under Act of Last Legislature—State Board, in Semi-Annual Session, Hears Report of Commissioner Graham.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 9.—The semi-annual session of the State Board of Agriculture opened today to continue probably through Friday, the adoption of the budget for the next six months period for the departmental activities, aggregating $80,000, to be one of the most important duties.

The board gave a special hearing today to Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the North Carolina Farmers' Union, on the matter of the appointment by the board of a supervisor of co-operative associations and rural credits, a special act directing the creation of which by the board was passed by the recent Legislature. Dr. Alexander insisted that the board should hasten to appoint such an official to devote his undivided attention to these matters. At a former meeting of the board the duties of such a supervisor were delegated to Director Camp, of the marketing division, whose time, Dr. Alexander insists, is already taken up with his regular official duties.

Commissioner Graham's Report.

In his report to the board Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham declared that he does not think that there has been a year when the stand of all crops was better, although some are now somewhat in the grass. He says floods have done damage in some localities, but that oats, which a month ago appeared to be a failure, are fully up to the average and that the same development applies to the wheat crop. The commissioner estimates the reduction of the cotton crop in this State at about 20 per cent.

The financial statement for the Department of Agriculture, as set out in the commissioner's report, shows a balance in the treasury June 1, of $39,294, compared with a balance on June 1, 1914, of $77,987. The deposits of the department from December to June aggregated $169,916, and the expenditures during that period were $127,220. The fertilizer tag sales during the six months period, December to June 1, amounted to $115,531, compared with $158,457 during the corresponding period of the previous year. The income from cotton seed meal tags the past six months was $17,600; feed stamps, $13,685; test farms, $11,781; hog serum, $6,932; seed licenses, $1,600. The report shows the fertilizer tonnage during the past six months was 577,657 and during the corresponding period last year 792,288.

In discussing the activities of the department in providing agricultural lime for the farmers at the lowest possible cost, Commissioner Graham reviews the arrangement at Johnson City, Tenn., for lime to be supplied at 50 cents per ton f.o.b., and the railroad rates that the companies have allowed that provide reasonable cost for lime to farmers in a large area of the State. He says it was ascertained that some fertilizer companies were buying up lime deposits and the department deemed it wise to secure some to assure present low prices. One was purchased at Rocky Point, Botetourt county, Va., at a cost of $1,000. Also in Jones county a plant has been taken over by the State under a 20-year lease at $500 per year. Work was begun here June 1 and it is found that free labor at $1 per day is cheaper than convict labor at $1.25.

Other Test Farms Wanted.

The report shows that the Fayetteville chamber of commerce is petitioning for the Department of Agriculture to establish a test farm near that place; also that the Sand Hill Agricultural Association is petitioning for a test farm in that section, both places claiming that their types of soil are different from that in any other section of the State and that the tests on the present test farms do not meet their needs. There is also a petition from Cleveland county for a test farm on the ground that the tests on the Iredell county test farm do not meet the needs in Cleveland as the soil conditions are different. All these matters are left with the board. But a necessity for retrenchment in the expenditures the next six months leaves no prospect for either of the test farms petitioned for.

The Commissioner reported a contest from Forsyth county as to which of two competitive county negro fairs shall have the support and aid of the State department and that he had agreed that the board shall hear representatives as to the conflicting interests on Thursday of this week.

The commissioner puts it up to the board to say whether in cases where expenses are allowed for employes of the department, laundry bills shall be included as is allowed by the Federal department. Also, he asks that the board decide whether there shall be premiums allowed for township fairs and in what proportion to the county fair premiums allowed.

There is recommendation by the commissioner that a division of soil survey be established on a different and more effective basis than at present with an expert in charge so that this work will not be dependent on a Federal official who has several states to look after. He regards the work of informing the farmers as to their soils and their care as among the most important devolving on the department and expressed the hope that very soon there will be the necessary funds available to put such a definite state department division into operation.

The Commissioner recommended that the department budget be held within $80,000 for the work the next six months.

In conclusion the Commissioner informs the board that on June 15 he will confer with representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture as to extension of the cotton grading work in this State, the plan being for the Federal government to assign one or more graders who shall visit different points where assistants receive and care for the samples, returning them to the ginner in their due order after grading.

E. C. TEACHER TRAINING SCHOOL CLOSES YEAR

Hon. Francis D. Winston Addresses Graduating Class

Graduating Exercises Held Yesterday —Class Numbers 45—Board of Trustees Meets—Bishop Darst Preaches Sermon.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, N. C., June 9.—The graduating exercises of the class of 1915 of East Carolina Teacher Training school were held this morning. Hon. Francis D. Winston, former lieutenant governor and at present United States district attorney for the Eastern North Carolina district, delivered the address. The graduating class this year numbers 45. The board of trustees met yesterday. There was much regret that for the first time in the history of the school Ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis, a member of the board, was unable to attend the meeting. The summer term of the school will open Tuesday, June 15.

The anual sermon to the graduating class was preached on Sunday morning, June 6, by Bishop Thomas C. Darst, of the diocese of East Carolina. He preached a strong, spiritual sermon, marked by directness, simplicity and earnestness, on the subject, "Be ye worthy of the vocation to which you are called." It was singularly appropriate sermon for a class graduating from a vocational school.

On Sunday evening Rev. George Matthis, of the Presbyterian church of Clinton, preached the annual Y. W. C. A. sermon. His theme was the purpose and standards of life and his central idea was that one must develop the temporary trinity of body, mind and soul so that he may grow into the eternal trinity. His definition of right was "Do the things that help and leave undone the things that mar." President Wright commended highly the work of the Y. W. C. A. and announced that six representatives from this association are attending the summer conference at Blue Ridge.

The Alumnae Meeting.

The alumnae held a most satisfactory meeting on Monday afternoon. Various committees which will further their work in aiding the institution were appointed, officers were elected, and they pledged themselves to active co-operation in the publication of the Training School Quarterly, the professional magazine published by the school.

The fourth alumnae dinner was given at 8 o'clock, in the dining hall of the school. The faculty and officers were the guests and the 45 members of the graduating class were welcomed into the association. The hall and tables were attractively decorated and an excellent six-course dinner was served. The menu and place cards were exceedingly artistic, and the toasts very appropriate and clever.

Class day exercises were held at 6 o'clock, p. m., in the campus grove. These exercises were exceedingly clever and were greatly enjoyed by the students and their friends who could appreciate the personalities and the jokes. The class presented to the school $200 as a loan fund for needy students. Every class that has gone out from the school has left a sum of money as a loan fund.

On Tuesday evening the alumnae presented "The Mikado." The proceeds are to be used as a nucleus for a fund for building a gymnasium, a building greatly needed at the school. Two and a half years ago societies of the school gave a production of the Mikado which was enthusiastically received by the public and it was by request that it was given a second time. The same principals were in this performance. They had been at the school some time rehearsing. The choruses were from the student body.

SIMMONS HAS NOTHING TO SAY AS TO RESIGNATION

Declines to Make Any Remarks Whatever Concerning the Matter.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., June 9.—Senator Simmons, tonight at his home here, refrained from making any comment on the action of Secretary Bryan in resigning from the President's cabinet and on the probable effect that it would have on Germany.

The Senator gave audience to a reporter but as soon as the latter's mission was stated he was told by the senior senator that he had nothing to say in regard to the matter; that it was too delicate a subject to discuss by a man in his official position and that he did not feel inclined to talk about it.

It is evident that Senator Simmons fully realizes the gravity of the situation and his aversion to giving out any statement to the press is due to the fact that he does not desire to cause President Wilson or his cabinet any further embarrassment.

MISTRIAL ORDERED IN SUIT FOR $25,000 AGAINST A. C. L.

Second Trial of Suit by Miss Culifer for Mangled Limb.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 9.—Whether or not the Atlantic Coast Line is going to pay $25,000 damages, or any part or it, for personal injuries sustained in the mangling of the left foot of Miss Lillie Culifer at the crossing of Main and Thomas streets in this city in February, 1913, was further tangled with the decision in Edgecombe Superior court today that a mistrial should be ordered. This same case was fought through Edgecombe court last year and resulted in a victory for the railroad, while an appeal resulted in an order from the Superior court for a new trial and the case sent back and now this results in a mistrial.

This case is the result of a distressing accident which occurred when Miss Culifer, in company with a friend, Miss Abrams, was knocked from a buggy which was demolished by an incoming freight. The horse was killed and Miss Culifer suffered a mangled limb. Miss Abram escaped with only bruises and a severe shock.

WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS BETTERED BY WEATHER

Past Week's Conditions Give Promise of Full Billion Bushels.

Washington, June 9.—Prospects of a billion bushel wheat crop were brightened during the past week by favorable weather for both winter and spring wheat, according to today's weather and crop bulletin. Since the government's June 1 canvass upon which the crop reporting board predicted a bumper wheat crop, winter wheat is said to have improved, while spring wheat made satisfactory progress.

The composite condition of all crops June 1 was about 1.6 per cent., above their ten-year average condition on that date, compared with 2.2 per cent. last year. Fewer extremes than usual prevailed in the growing conditions generally. Only one, sugar cane, of 22 crops reported upon, was below its average condition. The peach crop ranked highest with 28.4 per cent. above average condition.

This spring was unusually favorable for farm work, enabling farmers to put in large acreages of field crops.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give

Safety+Quickness

"Safety First" must ever be the watchword in firearms. But safety must not be secured at the expense of quick action. The Colt Automatic Pistol combines the most dependable kind of safety—automatic safety—with instant firing.

The Colt can't be discharged accidentally, because the trigger must be pulled and the safety in the grip must be pressed in at the same instant and this can't be done except it is done purposely. So much for safety.

As for quickness, the Colt always gets there first, for in an emergency you don't have to bother with or think about the grip safety—it takes care of itself and you.

Chicago, June 9.—Philadelphia nosed Chicago out of first place today after an 11-inning hard fought battle which ended by a spectacular double play, Niehoff to Luderus, when the locals threatened to score. They had men on first and third with one out, when Bresnahan's pop fly started the double play. The score was 4 to 3.

Becker's double and triple drove in two Philadelphia runs and he scored the others himself, one on an infield out and the other when he started the 11th inning rally with a single and later scored on a sacrifice.

Alexander did not allow a hit until the seventh inning. In the eighth, he fanned Zimmerman for the third out with the bases filled.

ROCKY MOUNT TAKES BIG END OF SERIES FROM TRUCKERS

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 9.—Today the Tar Heels made it the big end of the series by winning from the Portsmouth Truckers by a one to nothing count. Applegate allowed the visitors but two safe swats, both of which hit hands in the infield, while never once was third occupied and not until the seventh did he yield a safe one. On the other hand he claims three of the six hits made by the Tar Heels. The only run of the game was earned when Gray singled, stole second, went to third on a fielder's choice and scored when Parmalee measured to the occasion with a sacrifice fly to the outfield.

fore my eyes. It happened to be my birthday. I was ten." Later visits have made him familiar with the land of the Rhine. His address turns on the difference between Prussia and Germany. Various references to history, as well as to the present day, are accumulated to make clear the point that the Prussian character is decidedly alien to what the world, until within a few decades, has known as the German character. The Prussian character having always been military, aggressive and eminently practical, and nearly destitute of those higher qualities of imaginative genius which are the real measure of a civilization, while the German character on the other hand has been peace loving, far from military and highly gifted with imaginative genius, both musical and literary. Mr. Wister's latest visit to the Empire was made exactly a year ago, when he saw a great deal to impress him with the greatness and value of Germany's civilization. The growth of prosperity in the Empire since his previous visit was very apparent. On account of length lest he weary his audience, Mr. Wister cut a number of passages out of the original draft of his address, one of these omissions being a reference to those people in his own state known as the Pennsylvania Dutch. As is well known they are not Dutch at all, but came chiefly from southern parts of Germany during the early colonial years of Pennsylvania. Their marked qualities of peacefulness and political docility entirely resemble these same qualities of the peace-loving South Germans today, and just as in Pennsylvania this German stock has been one of the factors that made possible the strong hold which the Republican party has been able for many generations to keep on Pennsylvania politics, so like characteristics in the South Germans have made possible the despotic hold which Prussia fastened on the Empire after the Franco-Prussian war in 1870. The date of 1870, Mr. Wister selects as one of great importance: "July 14th, 1870, is one of the dates that does not remain the same size, but grows, has not done growing yet, will be one of history's enormous dates before it is done growing. The heavier descendants of those locomotives have been lugging to France a larger destruction, and more hideous, than their ancestors dragged there; but this new freight belongs to the same haul, forms part of one vast materialistic growth, and spiritual eclipse, of which 1870 and 1914 are important parts, but by no means the whole. Woven with it is the struggle of nations for the possession of their own soul. Consider 1870 in this light: Through that war France took her soul out of the custody of an Emperor and handed it to the people; through the same war Germany placed her soul in the hands of an Emperor."

It is evident as appeared in many places in the course of Mr. Wister's remarks, that in his opinion the world not only owes a great intellectual, religious, scientific and musical debt to Germany, but that many of her institutions could be introduced into other countries to their advantage, as well as her methodical habits as regards practical public affairs. It is insisted several times that we may look on Germany's share in the European tragedy as being the deepest because she has been perverted from her natural character by the strongest influence and teaching of Prussia. His stay in a health resort, and later in the Black Forest, during May and June of last year, together with frequent opportunities of observing both the city of Frankfort-on-the-Main and the rural districts in its neighborhood, gave him an enthusiasm for Germans and German things that was akin to affection. He says: "The Germany at peace that I saw during May and June, 1914, was in the first place a constant pleasure to the eye, a constant repose to the body and mind. Look where you might, beauty was in some form to be seen, given its chance by the intelligence of man, not defaced, but made the most of, and, whether in towns or in the country, a harmonious spectacle was the rule. I thought of our landscape, littered with rubbish, and careless fences and stumps of trees; hideous with glaring advertisements; of the rusty junk lying about our farms and towns, and wayside stations; and of the disfigured palisades along the Hudson river. America was ugly and shabby, made so by Americans; Germany was swept and garnished, made so by the Germans. In Nauheim, the admirable court yard of the bath house was matched by the admirable system within. The convenience and the architecture were equally good. For every hour of the invalid's day, the secret of his well-being seemed to have been thought out. On one side the group and court of baths ran the chief street, shady and well-kept, with its hotels and very entertaining shops; on the other side spread a park. This was a truly gracious little region, embowered in trees, with spaces and walks and flowers, all near at hand, yet nothing crowded. The park sloped upward to a terrace and casino, with tables for sitting out to eat and drink and hear the band, and with a concert hall and theatre for the evening. Herein comedies and little operas and music, both serious and light, were played. Nothing was far from anything: The baths, the doctors, the hotels, the music, the tennis courts, the lakes, the golf links, all were fitted into a scheme laid out with marvelous capability. Various hills and forests, a little more distant, provided walks for those robust enough to take them, while longer excursions in carriages or motor cars over miles of excellent roads were all mapped out and tariffed in a terse but comprehensive guide book. Such was living at Nauheim. Dying, I feel sure, was equally well arranged; it was never allowed to obtrude itself upon living; it was kept out of sight."

Mr. Womble spoke as follows:

"Our point of view in life depends upon our training. We sometimes forget, but it is true nevertheless, that from the moment of our entering college we have become a part of it and it has become a part of us inevitably and forever. The Trinity point of view, I think, is that of the sane man, the progressive man, the unselfish man. Some folks in politics in recent years have mistaken themselves and have called themselves militant progressives when they were in fact consistent knockers. Some of those who have thought themselves most progressive in politics have done most to hinder industrial progress. The day when politicians can go into office by appealing to the prejudice in North Carolina is passing away and the man who is now running on that platform will keep on running.

"There is opportunity in every walk of life for the sane, progressive man. There should be a State-wide campaign of education in North Carolina in the interests of health. In recent years it has been thoroughly demonstrated that many of the diseases from which people have heretofore suffered and died are preventable. It can no longer be doubted that typhoid fever is absolutely preventable by vaccination. And still in North Carolina during the last year there has been 13,000 cases of typhoid fever and 1,300 deaths from this one cause, all of which could have been easily prevented. There is a need of a campaign for better sanitary conditions and better living conditions, especially in our towns and cities that have large negro population. In the slum sections of our cities, negroes are often found living in houses crowded together as thickly as they can be built, under conditions that breed crime and disease. Of course, if this class of property were owned by the corporations, the legislatures of the different states would have taken the matter in hand long ago, but it is a case of dealing with individuals. There is an opportunity for our colleges to impress upon the men going out from them the importance of improved health conditions which effect the life and happiness of our whole people.

"And the Trinity point of view is that of unselfishness. The thing that the world needs today more than any other thing is to learn the lesson of unselfishness. We may lay the immediate cause for the present war in Europe where we will, but the world knows that the real cause of it was covetousness. We have looked to education to solve the world's problems, but education has failed. According to accepted standards Germany is the best educated country in the world, but education that merely looks towards the perfection of brain activity will not solve the world's problems. The working out and establishing right relations between men and between nations must come through a system of education that is builded on a foundation of unselfishness. The world will never have peace until men of all nations have learned the truth of the great commandment, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'"

The frequent rumors that Secretary Bryan would resign have been confirmed. None of those who started any of the rumors knew why Colonel Bryan would sooner or later resign, but they were satisfied he would resign if the principal things done at Washington were not done the way he would do them if he were a committee of one.

We have been asked why Secretary Bryan resigned. It is not necessary to go into particulars in this column, so in order to make it perfectly clear it is only necessary to say that he concluded that President Wilson was putting his foot in it. Thereupon he got cold feet and resigned so his foot wouldn't be in it with the President's foot.

SECRETARY BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

When the relations between this country and Germany took the shape they did after the latter's reply to the American note had evoked dissatisfaction, we believed that Secretary Bryan would soon come to a parting of the ways with President Wilson and his official family. We knew that the second note to Germany as formulated would not meet with Secretary Bryan's well known peace views, so we confess that his resignation was more startling than it was surprising.

In fact, any one could read between the lines of last Monday's dispatches and note that the President and some one in his cabinet had disagreed. The delay and alterations in the note was evidence that it was being changed to suit the views of an objector or objectors. Indeed, a special dispatch to the New York Journal of Commerce under date of Monday stated that "according to general report Secretary Bryan and the President were not in accord on the note." It was further stated that "the Secretary advocates delay and further parley with Germany and a general broadening of the matter under discussion with possibly a reference of the dispute to The Hague."

That was a straw indicating what came in the resignation of Colonel Bryan on Tuesday. The fact is the President, backed by every other member of his cabinet, favored a peremptory rejoinder to Germany without discussing the points raised in her answer. Colonel Bryan favored the usual dilatory exchange of diplomacy in order to clear up the points of disagreement. However the President and the other members of his cabinet desired to make an uncompromising repoinder, whereupon the Secretary at once saw that it would complicate the matter and hasten a crisis.

So radically differing with the President, Colonel Bryan had no other recourse than to quit the President's official family so as to give him a free hand. The President acted upon conscientious principles and so did Secretary Bryan. They remain officially separated but as strong personal and political friends as ever before. They differ only in their conscientious conception of their grave duties.

We cannot share the criticism which has been made about the Secretary's action that Colonel Bryan deserted his chief in the midst of an international crisis, when of all other times he should have remained and shared the responsibility. Men can differ on important and inconsequential matters and compromise their differences. On grave matters involving conscience and principle there can be no honorable compromise for either. That is what no conscientious man can or would compromise.

It is fitting, therefore, that Secretary Bryan stood by his conscience, right or wrong, and that the President, equally sincere, adhered to what he conceived to be his conscientious duty.

Time and history will have to say which one was right or wrong, or whether both were right, but whether the President and his cabinet are right or wrong, they commit the whole country and will have to be backed by it in whatever outcome is the result.

Colonel Bryan can do more for peace outside the cabinet than he could do by remaining in a fold with which he was not conscientiously agreed.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS.

All the trouble directly or remotely involving the United States and other neutrals in the war in Europe has been caused by the failure of the belligerents to recognize the freedom of the seas. Italy has not been in the war long enough to interfere with our commerce and cause us to write her a note protesting against interference with non-contraband commerce, but the three chief maritime and naval powers engaged in war have committed acts which have brought about controversies between them and the American government.

Great Britain offended in many particulars, France in several, and Germany in a more serious particular, inasmuch as American lives have been lost by her method of warfare. None of the methods of either Germany, Great Britain or France can be approved by any neutral which considers the seas free to them, but under the extraordinary and peculiar circumstances the disapproval has only taken the shape of protests and demands for indemnity.

So far as the United States and other neutrals are concerned, they have undertaken no reprisals. Had the American navy been used to enforce this country's rights on the sea, we would have been at war with Great Britain and her allies and with Germany and her allies. That would have been an anomalous state of affairs, yet the belligerents fighting each other have given this country cause for war, if the cause of war between the United States and Great Britain in 1812 is recognized as justification for going to war.

Circumstances alter cases, however. The circumstances up to now have been such that war with any or all belligerents would have stultified this country. Graver circumstances have arisen in the case of Germany and the question remains open with all sorts of eventualities. The curious fact exists that if we are finally involved in the war it will be because of Great Britain's arbitrary interference with neutral commerce and Germany's outrageous retaliation measures—the acts of each of those nations being justified in their own eyes but not in our eyes.

However, the freedom of the seas, the real question involved by the unwarrantable action of Germany and Great Britain, is one that could not be settled by any nation's making war on another. It will have to be done by the combined agreement of all the nations, but it is discouraging that some of the nations party to The Hague agreement do not consider their obligations binding in extremities. Neither would any future international agreement be binding upon any nation lacking honor enough to live up to its agreement, unless there were some means for international enforcement of the agreement.

We might fight to compel any one nation to desist from unwarranted and inhumane warfare, but it would not bind any other nation to refrain from violating the principle whenever it decided to do so.

We now have no freedom of the seas and will not have any through war between the United States and any other nation. It is a world problem, and the biggest one that the nations have to deal with as a whole some time in the future.

THE BEST GUARANTEE OF PEACE

Rear Admiral F. E. Chadwick, retired, contributes a very thoughtful and able article to the June number of the North American Review concerning the general view of preparedness for war and the best guarantee of peace among the nations of the world. He believes in all the preparedness for war that circumstances may make necessary as a safeguard against possible contingencies, but he is a hopeful advocate of peace for the United States and for the future peace of the world.

Rear Admiral Chadwick contends that the best assurances for peace between nations is absolute freedom of trade—rightful commerce without molestation. He holds that the absolute freedom of all nations to trade on equal terms everywhere and without naval interference with the commerce of any nation should be the beneficent economic policy for all nations. A free sea for all is his idea.

The economists have agreed that the present war in Europe is purely the outcome of commercial rivalry and the colonial extension policies of the nations. Strong antagonisms have grown up out of the world's commercial greed, and practically whole continents have been gobbled up and nations crushed because of it. It was a big game that all were playing, and even the colonialists and territorial expansionists of the United States have all but committed America to this folly.

FAIR TEST OF DIVERSIFICATION

The Hoke County Journal, published at Raeford, calls attention to a North Carolina farm on which there is a fine demonstration of the marvelous fact that practically all kinds of farming and farm industries can be successfully carried on in this part of North Carolina. Says the Raeford paper:

"Mr. W. J. Johnson, of Red Springs, has more than six hundred acres in cultivation. He raises cotton, corn, tobacco, oats, rye, potatoes, both Irish and sweet, all kinds of fruits in their season; in fact, everything that will grow is found here. His dairy, cattle and hogs are not surpassed by even those at Pinehurst or Biltmore."

Mr. Johnson is a successful farmer, and one big reason is that he does not have all his eggs in one basket. Probably that is not all the products which he raises on his farm. There are a dozen not named, all of which can be grown equally well anywhere in the Nation's Garden Spot.

MR. BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

To the Editor of The Star:

There is nothing surprising in Mr. Bryan's resignation, and developments will probably disclose that the note to Germany was the occasion rather than the cause of his retirement from the cabinet. It has been evident for some time that Mr. Bryan's talents, however great in other respects, were not suited to the onerous duties imposed upon the Secretary of State during these turbulent times, and it is no secret that Mr. Wilson has been his own Secretary of State in handling complicated international questions. Fortunately Mr. Bryan's retirement need not be considered a breach in the ordinary meaning of the term, because he retires from the cabinet entertaining for and receiving from the President sentiments of cordial good will and political loyalty.

The incident must not be considered as closing Mr. Bryan's political career, for his true elements of greatness will continue to make him a powerful influence in the sphere in which his talents are adapted, and while it is rare it is not without example for a minister of state to be strong in domestic affairs and weak in foreign relations. Nor is there anything in the incident to cause the country alarm. The note to Germany of May 13, which Mr. Bryan found it possible to sign, said in unmistakable terms that this country would omit no act necessary to protect American citizens in the exercise of their lawful rights, and the note which is to be dispatched today is understood to be only a reiteration of our position and insistence upon compliance with our demands. Even the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany would not necessarily mean war, which could only be brought about by some overt act on the part of one of the governments involved. Certainly no such course will be initiated by this country, and if war should come it will only be as the result of the continued violation of the rights of our citizens.

No American with proper appreciation of his rights and due regard for the dignity of his country can fail to recognize that the first duty of government is to protect its citizens in their lawful pursuits. If national dignity is not respected citizenship becomes a reproach and protection a snare and delusion.

AMERICA.

NORTH CAROLINA'S OPPORTUNITY.

To the Editor of The Star:

May I have space for a few words in your good paper?

I have been reading with interest the reports of the conference between the financial men of the South American Republics, and the official heads of the departments of our Government at Washington.

President Wilson reiterates his position that led up to the introduction of the ship purchase bill, which was defeated in the form it was presented to Congress. With the experiences that are daily occurring in relation to the European war, there are few people today in the United States that do not feel, if any of the provisions of that bill would have occasioned this Government to have gone into the ocean carrying business to other countries, than those of the South American Republics, and the Orient, we would have already been precipitated into this unfortunate war in Europe. We will be lucky if, as a German officer recently said, if we keep out; for evidently it is Germany's purpose to force us into this war if she can.

Of all the States in all this Nation, North Carolina should be more directly and immediately and actively interested in this conference, just drawing to a close in Washington than any state in the Union. Her ports, susceptible of handling at Southport and Wilmington, a world's commerce, are the best situated with trunk line roads built from the Central West to those ports, of any ports on the American coast, to serve the great center of American population over the shortest possible route by rail and by water to the entire East Coast of South America. Already Mobile, Ala., is to have a four million dollar ship yard, because of South American business. Southport has 100 per cent advantages in access to every character of material for ship construction, and on the air line to 90 per cent of the South American commerce. States carry over 30,000,000 population through their legislature, have asked Congress to establish direct mail lines bteween Wilmington and Southport, N. C., and the east coast of South America; and silent as the tomb has the North Carolina delegation in Congress been on this mail line. Had they devoted the energy and effort to this mail line, it would have been in operation today, that was given to the ship purchase bill which would have also been a law today, if connections with all countries involved in this war had been eliminated from it. Out of $1,877,000,000 of commerce and over that the South American Republics alone have been doing, chiefly with these countries that are at war with each other, per annum, the United States has only sold them a little the rise for the last report of $152,554,165, and little over, and bought from them a little the rise of $400,000,000. Balance of trade against us is one and one-quarter billion dollars; and we are still discussing the question of getting in mail line, and capturing this trade before the war is over in the countries that have chiefly enjoyed it. Will the people of North Carolina ever wake up to their opportunity?

Respectfully,

S. A. JONES,
Commissioner for N. C., Tenn., & Fla.
Willetta, N. C.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Judge George Connor holds the opinion that the man who buys whiskey from the "blind tigers" is just as guilty as the man or woman who sells it to him, and he is probably right. If there was no sale for the whiskey there would be no violation of the law by those who sell it, for there would be no chance to sell the dope which they are peddling. Unfortunately Judge Connor cannot hand out to the purchasers of the liquor the same sentence that he places upon the "tigers," but if it were in his power to do such, there is every reason to believe that he would soak it to 'em.—Newbern Journal.

The British losses last week were 900 officers and 20,000 men. The United States standing army would last about a month at that rate, and even the great armies of Europe cannot fight long and sustain weekly such losses. If each of the seven greater nations in the war should lose 20,000 men a week their total losses in a year would be 7,800,000 men. Their supplies of soldiers would be exhausted in a very few years. And it no doubt is true that the losses Germany, France, Russia, Austria and Turkey suffered were far more than 20,000 men apiece, since they all, with the possible exception of Turkey, had much greater armies at work than Great Britain. If they suffered proportionately as heavily as Great Britain, last week was one of the bloodiest in the world's history, if indeed it did not set a new high record of bloodshed.—Savannah News.

The surprise in the announced resignation of Secretary Bryan from President Wilson's cabinet is that it should have come at the present time. Since the outbreak of the European trouble Secretary Bryan had been necessarily playing a role of self-obliteration which must have strained his pride to an extent almost unbearable. * * * The bearing it may have on the German attitude may be problematical. Only those within the diplomatic circles are competent to judge of that. But The Observer believes it can safely say that his resignation will be viewed by the country at large, and by the Democratic party in particular, as one through which the Administration will find itself strengthened in public confidence and shorn of an element of uncertainty that had been secretly felt in many quarters and publicly proclaimed in others; not that any act by Colonel Bryan since he became a cabinet officer justified such an estimation, but that the country simply was afraid of him.—Charlotte Observer.

But Mr. Wilson, with the unanimous approval of the remainder of his cabinet, has interpreted this nation's convictions on the question at issue. He has set clearly before the world the desire of America for peace, its determination to do all within its power for the cause of humanity, and throughout the nation there has been commendation of him for his declaration that whosoever shall infringe upon American rights or destroy American lives will be held to a strict accountability. That the resignation of Secretary Bryan will have any effect upon the attitude of this country if there arises a breach with Germany because of the note about to be sent by President Wilson is inconceivable. This country is only seeking to subserve the cause of humanity, and all that it is calling for is that this and international law—these held as the guide of all civilization—shall be the rules which shall be observed by Germany. Secretary Bryan believes in peace. His record shows how freely his services would be given should there be need for them.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Curing Catarrh is A Simple Method

Go to its Source and the Cure Is Then Accomplished.

Only those who have used S. S. S. for the blood know that catarrh is simply a blood trouble.

Most people, uninstructed in this membraneous disease, treat their nose and throat as if catarrh was a local trouble. It is not so. To treat catarrh it is necessary to go into the stomach, the liver, the lungs, the kidneys and all the vital organs of the body. And it is S. S. S. that at once enters the entire blood circulation, all the organs of the body, all the mucous surfaces and becomes a dominant factor for renewed health. It is a simple method when you figure it out. Catarrh is plainly an inflammation of the mucous membranes.

And there is in S. S. S. certain ingredients which cause these mucous surfaces to change or convert their secretions into a substance for easy elimination. A special book on this subject will be mailed to all who write to The Swift Specific Co., 110 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Catarrh is very often the result of some other blood trouble, some germ that gets into the blood and multiplies beyond the control of nature.

S. S. S. is the remdy. Do not accept a substitute for this matchless remedy. Read the circular wrapped around the bottle. It is important.

Announcements.

"The opening session will be held on Thursday, evening, June 17, at 8:30 o'clock.

"All sessions will be held in the Assembly hall of the Seashore hotel, Wrightsville Beach.

"Thursday morning and afternoon all the special and standing committees will hold their meetings.

"In addition to the regular business of the convention many matters of interest and profit to the banks will be discussed. If you are a State bank, would you like to know the effect the Federal Reserve bank will have on your business? Do you contemplate becoming a member of the Federal Reserve system? If so, come to the convention.

Entertainment.

"Many social features have been arranged for by the Wilmington bankers, and every person who attends will be delighted with this part of the programme.

Hotels.

"Convention headquarters will be at the Seashore Hotel, where all will register upon their arrival.

"Hotels and their rates are as follows:

"Seashore, $2.50 to $4.00 per day. American plan.

"Oceanic, $2.50 to $3 per day, American plan.

"For reservations write J. F. Roache, Chairman Hotel Committee, Wilmington, N. C.

Railroads and Special Service.

"The passenger departments of the several railroad lines into Wilmington are very anxious to aid in handling the delegates to this convention, and if necessary to arrange any special service that may be required. They contemplate operating special Pullmans from Charlotte over the Seaboard Air Line and from Salisbury and Greensboro over the Southern Railway. For further information apply to

"R. H. De Butts, passenger agent, Southern Railway, Charlotte.

"J. T. West, passenger agent, Seaboard Air Line, Raleigh.

"J. F. Mitchell, passenger agent, Norfolk Southern Railway, Raleigh.

"Reduced rates have been secured and the special summer rates will be in effect, and round trip tickets can be purchased to Wrightsville Beach and return.

The Ladies.

"The ladies are expected as usual as their presence has always added grace and dignity to the occasion. They are more than welcome and we hope they will be present.

"Very respectfully,
"W. A. HUNT,
"Secretary."

There is also a call for a meeting of the members of the American Bankers' Association as follows:

"On June 18 at Wrightsville Beach, a meeting of the American Bankers' Association will be held for the purpose of electing the following:

"A vice president for your State to succeed the undersigned.

"A member to serve on the general nominating committee.

"An alternate member of the general nominating committee.

"LEAKE S. COVINGTON,
"Vice president, A. B. A.
"for North Carolina."

"This association adopted the 'group system' at its convention held in Raleigh in 1914. Those groups that have not been organized will hold meetings on Friday afternoon, June 18, for organization.

"All banks that are represented at the convention are requested to meet the chairmen of the several congressional districts at that time."

ERA OF PROSPERITY AT HAND

Such is Opinion of Gernault Agassiz, Magazine Writer, Who Spent Yesterday in City.

That the South is facing an era of prosperity greater than anything in its past history is the opinion of Gernault Agassiz, magazine writer and publicity representative for the Canada Steamship Lines, the largest inland navigation company in the world, who spent yesterday in Wilmington.

Mr. Agassiz, who was here in 1911, declares that he is able to see many evidences of progress along all lines in Wilmington and this immediate section, but he is frank to say that Wilmington and Wilmington people are not yet fully awake to the opportunities offered by the many natural resources and advantages that are theirs.

Mr. Agassiz's predictions of a return of prosperity in the South and throughout the United States, for that matter, are based on his personal observations of conditions all over the South and West. He estimates a reduction in cotton acreage of 30 per cent., and the use of fertilizers has also been cut 20 per cent. or more, he says. As a consequence, he believes cotton will be higher next season than in years, for he hoots at the idea that the war troubles abroad have cut down the demand. The war will create an additional demand, he says.

Conditions in Canada, Mr. Agassiz says, are in no sense disturbed by the war abroad, but on the contrary, the outlook is immeasurably brighter than at this time a year ago.

"The solid foundation of Canadian business," said Mr. Agassiz to a representative of The Star," "finds eloquent testimony in the remarkable country wide commercial recovery that has been the outstanding feature of the past few months in the dominion to our north.

"When the war broke out Canada was on the verge of a great industrial panic that if it had materialized would have given her a setback that might not have been overcome for years. However, there were far-seeing men at the helm, and immediate measures were taken to conserve the interests of the country as a whole. Momentary gain was sacrificed to permanent benefit, and before very long the darkest hours had been passed and the dawn of a brighter future well marked on the horizon of the tomorrow.

"Gradually the nation began to regain confidence, prompted, no doubt, by the serenity of the government that went on with the great public improvements, such as the trans-continental railroad and the Welland Ship Canal, as though no world cataclysm disrupted the normal conditions of the empire. Then came the tremendous growth of the foreign commerce of the United States, with its promise of not only a speedy return of prosperity but a prosperity such as had had no parallel in the commercial annals of the country. This, of itself, would be sufficient to create public confidence in Canada, for, after all, no prosperity can come to the United States without being reflected in large measure on the Dominion of Canada.

"Gradually the dark clouds rolled away, the pessimism of yesterday were forgotten. Canada could go forward on the highread of progress just as she had been doing these many years without fear.

"And this she has been doing. Never before has there been so glorious promise of bumper crops; never before a greater mineral development, never before a more patriotic encouragement of native manufacture."

Mr. Agassiz thinks many of the Americans who have heretofore spent their summers at the trans-Atlantic resorts will this year turn to Canada. He points out the many attractions that country has to offer the tourist, and that Canada is in no sense at war; that travel there is just as free as on this side of the boundary.

"Moonshine" Window Display.

The window of the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company attracted considerable attention yesterday with a display "add" which was painted by a traveling "bare-faced moonshiner." However, the "moonshine" referred to is not that commonly known, but a brand of tobacco.

COMMITTEE NAMED ON NEW LIGHT SYSTEM

Matter Considered by Council Yesterday.

Purchase of Water and Sewer Mains at Carolina Heights Also Discussed. Other Matters Before Council Yesterday.

A committee to investigate and report on the matter of securing a more modern and effective system of street lighting for the downtown business district was appointed by Mayor Moore at the weekly meeting of City Council yesterday, after the body had heard the arguments of a strong committee from the Rotary Club, urging that the petitions calling for a better lighting system and signed by some 300 representative business men, be acted upon favorably. In addition to the lighting matter, the proposition of the city's taking over the water and sewerage system at Carolina Heights was also considered, and a committee appointed to investigate and report back to Council.

The committee appointed to investigate the lighting system matter is composed of Councilmen Bradshaw, Merritt and Bunting. Councilman Bradshaw, in charge of the department of streets and wharves, stated at the meeting while the matter was under discussion that he had been figuring with Mr. Raymond Hunt, of the Tidewater Power Company, on a lighting system that promises not only to be much more ornamental than the present system, but also to give a better illumination. The figures on this proposition will be considered by the committee, along with others possibly. The system upon which Mr. Hunt and Mr. Bradshaw have been figuring is said to give an increase of efficiency of 15 per cent at an increased cost of only 4 per cent. It would be necessary, Mr. Bradshaw said, to enter into a 10-year contract to get this price.

Messrs. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., and S. M. Boatwright were the spokesmen for the Rotary Club committee, and they pointed out that the club is not wedded to the advocacy of any particular scheme of lighting, but desired only a system that would not only be an improvement from the artistic standpoint, but would also give a better illumination.

The matter of the city's purchasing the water mains and sewerage system at Carolina Heights was brought up by Burke H. Bridgers, Esq., agent for the development. The water pipes, he said, cost about $4,000, and he asked that an investigation be made to determine if they are in good condition. If they are, he thought the city ought to purchase them, if not then it was plainly the duty of the city to furnish the people of that section with suitable water mains.

Councilman McCaig said he understood that the city engineer was making an investigation of the new territory, and that until his report is received, he thought best not to go into the sewerage matter at this time.

Mr. Bridgers declared that if the city engineer reported that it would be cheaper or better for the city to build a new sewerage system than to purchase the existing plant, then he would be perfectly willing to see the city follow such a course, but in any event, it was due to all concerned that some immediate action be taken. The sewerage system at Carolina Heights, he said, cost approximately $12,000. A reasonable amount would be allowed for depreciation.

Councilman McCaig thought that before taking any action on the sewerage matter, the engineer of the State Board of Health should be brought here to make a survey.

Councilmen McCaig, Hall Jones and the city attorney were appointed a committee to investigate the proposition as to the water mains, and to report back to Council.

Council discussed the question of the continued use of the Front street market, which it was decided to discontinue some time ago, when the Board of Health served notice of its intention to condemn the building as a market place. Arrangements had been made to relieve the lessees from the payment of three months rent if they would surrender their leases, but one or more of the firms occupying the market declined to enter into the agreement, and the matter has hung fire. Councilman Merritt, in charge of the department of public affairs, was asked to investigate and report.

At the request of the Board of County Commissioners a committee composed of Councilmen Merritt, Bradshaw and Hall was appointed to confer with the Commissioners relative to the appropriation to the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

At the request of Mr. G. H. Hutaff, Council instructed the City Engineer to look into the matter of establishing street lines through Love Grove. A statement was received from the Board of Health, showing that the full amount of the appropriation for the fiscal year ending May 31st had been expended. An ordinance was adopted making it unlawful for newsboys and shoe shine boys to cry their wares on Sundays. Council declined to grant a permit for a blacksmith shop at the old Schloss stables on Princess street, between Fourth and Fifth, citizens having entered protest.

Councilman Jones was authorized to advertise for bids for sinking a well at Sixth and Orange streets. Councilman McCaig suggested that the turnpike, inside the city limits, be treated with Tarvia. Councilman Bradshaw said this would be done. Councilman Bunting was authorized to have a new floor installed in the Fourth street engine house.

Councilman Bradshaw reported for the committee that 17th and Market streets had been selected as the site for the new bird and animal fountain; the one now at 14th and Market to be moved to Fourth and Meares. The city engineer objected to both locations, suggesting that the new one be placed at 14th and Market and the old one removed to Third and Wright. Councilman Hall suggested that the old one be left where it is and the new fountain located at Third and Wright. The matter was finally referred back to the committee for further consideration.

At the suggestion of Councilman Bunting, it was decided to hold the regular weekly meetings through the summer months on Monday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Bunting also suggested that the city's property on the sound be sold and the proceeds be used for the improvement of parks within the city limits. Mayor Moore mentioned that inquiry had been made about the property only a few days ago. No action was taken on the matter yesterday.

RALLY BY THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Programme Announced for Interesting Meetings at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The young people of the Wilmington Presbyterial will have a rally at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church Monday and Tuesday of next week. These meetings are arranged in order that the young people who have been in school during the past year may have the opportunity to come together to discuss the work of the church. The annual meeting of the Presbyterial has been held for the last two years early in the spring and it is not possible for the young people to attend these sessions on account of being in school and so the rally has been arranged for June after the schools have closed.

Mrs. Edwin Taylor, secretary of Young People's Work of the Wilmington Presbyterial, will preside at the meetings. An interesting programme has been arranged by Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, secretary of the Presbyterial, and copies have been sent to the different societies in the Wilmington Presbytery.

The first session will be held next Monday night at 8 o'clock when Rev. R. A. Lapsley, of Clarkton, will deliver an address. The devotional exercises will be conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's.

On Tuesday morning at 9:45 o'clock after devotional exercises the meeting will be organized and Mrs. J. C. Stewart, of this city, will welcome the visiting delegates. The response will be made by Miss Ruth Moore, of Burgaw. Rev. Andrew J. Howell, of Wilmington, will discuss the general status of the young people's work of the Wilmington Presbyterial. This will be followed by narratives from young people's societies and prayer for the work of the young people.

A feature of the morning session will be the foreign mission pageant which will be led by Miss Antoinette Black and Mrs. W. M. Baker.

The afternoon session will be convened at 2:30 o'clock and will be opened with a praise service by Miss Gladys Brown, of Chadbourn. Mrs. Eugene Philyaw and Mrs. D. M. McIntosh will lead the service for the children and the meeting will close with a consecration service which will be conducted by Miss Nell Bowden. This will complete the rally services and the visitors will return to their homes on the evening trains.

TO DESTROY BOOZE

Major W .N. Harriss Will Conduct "Demonstration" This Afternoon.

Major W. N. Harriss, Clerk of the Superior Court, will conduct a "demonstration" of the proper methods of destroying booze at Third and Princess streets this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when he will smash 240 half pints of first class whiskey that was shipped to Wilmington in two trunks. Liquor was seized by the police department at the store at Seventh and Castle streets which is owned by Mr. E. A. Todd and was at the time under the management of Mr. Ed. Stokely.

Each of these men were charged with receiving more whiskey than the law allows and after being placed under arrest gave bond for their appearance before the Recorder. Each entered pleas yesterday morning of nolo contendere. Prayer for judgment was continued in each case for a year, Stokely being placed under bond of $100 and Todd under bond of $700.

Sylvester Burnett, colored, who was before the Recorder yesterday on a charge of non-support, was released with the understanding that he is to pay his wife $2 a week.

TO HOLD SCHOOL REUNION

Alumni of Cape Fear Academy to Give Banquet in Honor of Principal.

Announcement was made yesterday that the reunion of the alumni of Cape Fear Academy will be held in the dining hall of the Y. M. C. A. on June 22 when an elaborate banquet will be served. Rev. Andrew J. Howell, chairman of the committee on arrangements, suggested having a reunion and the idea at once met with popular favor on the part of the hundreds of former pupils of the school.

Prof. Washington Catlett, who has been principal of the school for 38 years, will be present as the guest of honor. During his long and successful career as a teacher and educator Professor Catlett has had hundreds of men who are now prominent in business and professional life under his instruction. It is probable that there is no instructor in the State who has taught more boys than he.

A programme is being arranged and invitations will be sent out within a few days. The committee on arrangements is composed of Rev. Andrew J. Howell, chairman, and Messrs. R .C. DeRosset and R. P. McClammy.

NEW BASEBALL LLEAGUE

Independent League Will Have Games on Saturday Afternoon at Hilton.

The first game of the Independent Baseball League will be played at Hilton Park Saturday afternoon and the public is cordially invited. There will be no charge for admission. The League formed an organization this week at the home of Mr. J. E. Shannon, No. 312 North Tihrd street, with the following officers:

Scorer—William Quinlivan.

There are four teams in the league as follows: Stags, R. H. Everett, manager; Tigers, David Shore, manager; Delgado, P. H. Rushing, manager; Immanuel, William Greenwall, manager.

VISITORS' DAY AT CAMP.

Cordial Invitation Extended to Parents and Friends to Visit Lake.

Tomorrow will be visitors' day at Camp Penton at Lake Waccamaw, where the Boy Scouts of Wilmington are spending several weeks on an outing. Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, Boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is in charge of the camp and writes that the boys are having the time of their lives. There is not a more beautiful or more attractive spot in Eastern North Carolina than this lake, which is five by seven miles in size.

A cordial invitation is extended the parents and friends of the boys at the camp to visit the camp tomorrow and see just how the boys are living. Trains leave both in the morning and the afternoon and those going over in the afternoon can return late tomorrow night.

HEAL YOUR SKIN WITH RESINOL

It Stops Itching Instantly, and Clears Away Unsightly Eruptions.

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Prescribed by doctors for twenty years, and sold by every druggist.

A GOOD WAY TO SHAMPOO

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, rubbing its lather thoroughly into the scalp, so as to work in the soothing, healing Resinol medication. This almost always stops dandruff and scalp itching, and keeps the hair live, thick and lustrous.

NOTICE.

To the Fishermen and Others Interested in the Fishing Industry of North Carolina.

At a meeting of the Fisheries Commission Board, held in Washington, North Carolina, on April 29th and 30th, 1915, a full membership of the Board being present, the following orders were passed:

First.—It was ordered that until January 1st, 1916, for experimental purposes, Ocean pound nets be allowed to extend to 200 yards of the shore, said nets not to be placed within three (3) miles of either side of any inlet and within one (1) mile of either side of Cape Lookout Bight.

Second.—That the fishing of pound nets shall be prohibited in the waters of Albemarle Sound and its tributaries from June 1st until January 1st.

Third.—That no net smaller than 1¼ inch bar before taring shall be fished in the waters of North Carolina, provided that this shall not apply to nets fished exclusively for shrimps and menhaden.

Provided further that skim and cast nets only shall be used for the catching of shrimps in Pender, New Hanover and Brunswick counties.

The following itinerary has been arranged:

Tuesday, June 8th, 1915, Edenton, N. C., from 9 A. M. till 1 P. M., at the Court House.

Wednesday, June 9th, 1915, Manteo, N. C., from 10 A. M. till 1 P. M., and from 2:30 P. M. till 5 P. M., at the Court House.

MISS VIRGINIA STELLA DIVINE BRIDE OF MR. E. B. BRYAN.

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 9.—Of interest to a wide circle of friends in this and other states will come the announcement of the marriage of Miss Virginia Stella Divine and Mr. Edward Best Bryan, both of this city, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Divine, at 4:30 o'clock this morning. Beautiful, simple and informal was everything connected with the wedding. In the drawing room with its decoration of white and green surrounded by members of the immediate families the wedding vows were taken before Rev. R. B. Owens, the bride's pastor.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. W. C. Divine, the impressive ring ceremony of the Episcopal church being used. The bride was handsomely attired in an imported blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bryan left on train No. 86 for a ten days' trip to Northern cities. The bride is the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Divine and is beloved by her many friends for her beautiful traits of character and her sweet disposition. The groom is a splendid young business man and is held in high esteem by all who know him.

THEATRICAL

Franklin Ritchie and Louise Vale are featured today in a two-reel Biograph feature that is far enough away from anything you have been seeing in the ordinary photoplays to make it distinctly interesting. "The Confession," the story, is one that will hold you breathless at the awful thing that is going to happen, that seemingly does happen and then as the plot unfolds and the last scene comes on and everybody is going to be happy you smile and settle down in your seat. (And these seats are as wide apart as any in the city) and say "that was some more picture."

There are mighty few people who would deliberately risk their lives for the amusement of the public as does the heroine of "A Fiend at the Throttle," a sensational one-act railroad story of the Hazards of Helen series. You should see her leap from the hand-car to the cowcatcher of the engine just as the engine crashes into the handcar and hurls it aside. It will bring a gasp from every one who sees it.

"The Strategist" is a Selig comedy and tells of the troubles a young man has in trying to marry the girl of his choice and what a terrible time his course of true love has in getting settled down to running smoothly.

"The Little Mother" tells a pretty and pathetic story of a little baby girl who runs away from an orphanage in search of her little brother who has been taken from her and adopted by a wealthy couple. The child actress, Violet Wilkey, is featured in the leading role.

Pickford Family at the Victoria Today.

"Fanchon the Cricket", the latest production of the Famous Players Film Co., on the Paramount Program, attaches an unusual interest because of the fact that it does not only present Mary Pickford, the idol of the screen in the title role, but that the supporting cast also includes Lottie and Jack Pickford, sister and brother of the popular star.

This is the first time since the Pickfords have been appearing on the screen that all three have been together in a single subject, and the production, therefore possesses a unique interest, aside from its great dramatic strength and the charm of "Little Mary's" exquisite portrayal of the title character.

Written by Georges Sand, one of the greatest novelists in the history of French literature, "Fanchon the Cricket" has lived for generations as one of the most human dramas ever conceived, and it is fair to assume that its interpretation on the screen by Mary Pickford and the superb cast which surrounds her, will forever immortalize this charming story.

Great War Drama at the Bijou.

Ella Hall and Robert Leonard, costars in the great "Master Key" serial, present their second great production since the close of their great serial achievement today at the Bijou, a superb three-act drama of the Civil War, "Shattered Memories."

"Shattered Memories," a stirring, powerful and pathetic story of "the times that tried men's souls," gives this popular couple one of the biggest opportunities of their career for some of their very greatest achievements in ascending to wonderful heights of strong dramatic and emotional acting, and judging from the criticisms of this masterpiece, they acquitted themselves with all honors. It is a picture full of the spirit of Memorial Day, a heart-touching production that will enthuse every patriotic man, woman and child who sees it.

The peerless Nestor Trio, Eddie Lyons, Victoria Forde and Lee Moran follow next with a great scream "When Her Idol Fell," a riotous musical discord, while Edythe Sterling and Willis Robards star in a single reel pathetic and emotional United drama "The Come Back," and Dallas Welford the noted Broadway comedian follows in the rear, starring in a great United scream, "The Mix-Up."

FEDERAL BIRD INSPECTOR IN WILMINGTON YESTERDAY.

Mr. Theo. S. Meekins, of Manteo, Looking After Enforcement of Law.

Mr. Theo. S. Meekins, of Manteo, United States District inspector under the Federal migratory birds act, spent yesterday in Wilmington for the purpose of finding out if the Federal statutes governing the killing of migratory birds is being enforced. The shooting of wild fowl and shore birds of all kinds is prohibited during the summer months and Mr. Meekins was particularly interested in finding out whether or not birds are being killed at the beaches and this vicinity. The penalty for violating the law is a fine of not more than $100.

Mr. Meekins was fish commissioner for four years and in that time became well acquainted with conditions pertaining to the fishing interests of the State.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Among the recent arrivals at Mrs. W. M. Parsley's Cottage are Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McNeill, Lumberton; P. D. W. Jones, Charlotte; Mrs. George J. Fargo, Misses Lisa, Marion and Julia Carter Fargo and Master John Fargo, Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. Geo. L. Morton, Miss Eliza Morton and George L. Morton, Jr., Atlanta; M. L. Woodward, Wilmington.

Mr. E. C. Newman, of Chicago, left for his home yesterday after spending two weeks at the beach at the Northrop cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, of Atlanta, Ga., who have been guests at the Seashore Hotel, have returned home and will come to the beach again later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Odell, of Georgia, are guests at the Seashore Hotel.

With the coming of the warm days fishing from the trestle across Bank's channel again becomes a popular pastime for beach dwellers.

Cooleemee cottage, headquarters for the Y. W. C. A. Recreation Club, is now open to its members and friends and there are always a number of visitors every day. There have been many reservations made for later in the season and the prospects are bright for making this a most popular place for young ladies who visit the beach.

Yesterday was warm enough in Wilmington to make a visit to the beach well worth while. The refreshing breezes are always a delightful contrast to the weather inland.

The weather man says it will be summer ere long.

Next week the bankers come to the beach and after they leave the dentists will be on hand and this will be followed by the Baptist Seaside Chautauqua which will continue for a week. The prospects now are that coincident with the arrival of summer there will be a large number of visitors. The hotels and cottages are prepared to take care of large crowds in first class style.

The midweek dance at Lumina last evening was attended by quite a number of people from Wilmington. Music was furnished by the new orchestra which was augmented by a bass viol which added effectively to its harmony. It will be of interest to visitors to Lumina to learn that the orchestra will have increased number of pieces for the midweek and week-end dances during the summer and also for the Sunday afternoon concerts.

There has been quite a demand for the portable canvas houses which have been placed on the lots west of Lumina by the Tidewater Power Company and there are now only a few left.

Mr. L. Stein, Sr., and family have moved to their cottage on the beach for the summer.

It was warm enough to make bathing in the surf yesterday very delightful and there were a large number at Lumina.

MR. GREEN IN CHARGE.

Mr. Ham Adams Has Resigned as Manager of Hotel Wilmington.

Mr. Ham Adams, who has been manager of the Hotel Wilmington since it was opened to the public last year, has resigned and Mr. T. A. Green, the proprietor, has assumed personal charge and will run the hotel in the future. Mr. Adams has made no announcement of his plans for the future.

Mr. Green had supervision of the erection of the hotel and since its completion has made his home in Wilmington.

Contract for Brick Addition.

The contract for the erection of a two-story addition of brick to Delgado Cotton Mills was awarded yesterday morning to Mr. R. H. Brady, who was the lowest bidder. His bid was for $3,200. Work will begin immediately and is to be completed in six weeks. The additional space will be used by the finishing department.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

Nervousness Apparent on Market During Trading—Close Steady at Heavy Loss.

New York, June 9.—Cotton futures were nervous and unsettled today with the close easy at a net decline of 14 to 20 points.

The Washington news no doubt accounted for considerable liquidation and local pressure. The market opened easy at a decline of 9 to 14 points and active months sold about 12 to 14 points net lower right after the call. Bearish sentiment appeared to be encouraged by the decline in Liverpool unfavorable Manchester labor news and favorable weather conditions in the South, but offerings were well absorved just below 975 for October contracts and prices rallied 4 or 5 points from the lowest during the late forenoon.

There was no general support and prices weakened again during the afternoon under increased Wall street and Southern offerings. The weekly report of the bureau read about as expected, and failed to create any fresh interest, but an easier turn in the stock market helped the afternoon decline in cotton while selling was also promoted by the favorable weekly weather forecast and talk of somewhat easier spot markets. Closing prices were practically the lowest for the day.

Futures closed easy.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Prices Lost About a Dollar a Bale on Political News From Washington.

New Orleans, June 9.—Cotton lost about a dollar a bale today on the political news from Washington. In the early trading prices fell away to the extent of 16 to 20 points. The market was steady at the decline and soon recovered about half its loss. Toward noon the tone held steady and the recovery was fairly well maintained, but in the afternoon after the reduction of spot quotations by 13 points, there was another fall and the market closed at the lowest level of the session, at a net loss of 17 to 20 points. It was a quiet day on the whole trading being deadened by the uncertainty over both the German and the Mexican situations. Longs were disposed to liquidate.

Weather and crop news was favorable.

Cotton futures closing: July 9.07; October 9.45; December 9.65; January 9.77; March 9.97. Spot cotton quiet 13 points down. Middling 9.12 sales on the spot 60, to arrive 300.

POLITICS AFFECT MARKET

Uncertainty Over Developments Between United States and Germany Causes Loss in Wheat.

Chicago, June 9. — Uncertainty over developments in regard to the relations of the United States with Germany had a decided bearish effect today on the wheat market here. The market closed heavy, at 3⅛@3¼ to 4⅛ under last night.

Bryan's Resignation Superseded All Other Developments in Wall Street Circles.

New York, June 9.—Because of its direct bearing upon an already tense international situation, Secretary Bryan's resignation superseded all other considerations in developments in Wall street today. Measured in terms of quoted values it created a distinct, if not profound impression, prices declining substantially in all parts of the list.

Among the few stocks calling for specific mention were Bethlehem Steel, which attained to a new high price of 168 on the early rebound, but yielded later in common with other specialties. Coppers were inclined to increase recent gains on some of the news of the day, and United States Alcohol was prominent among minor industrials on confirmation of the entrance of new and powerful interests to the directorate.

Another importation of gold from Canada, coinciding with the release of more gold by the Bank of England constituted the features of the foreign exchange markets.

Bonds irregular, prices shading after an early show of strength. Total sales par value, aggregated $2,502,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT E. L. CONVENTION

Annual State Meeting Opens in New Hamlet Church.

Welcoming Addresses and Response Heard Last Night—Convention of Epworth League Will Continue Through Sunday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Hamlet, N. C., June 9.—The North Carolina Conference of the Epworth League held its first session for this conference year here tonight. The meeting was presided over by Professor W. A. Graham, of Warrenton, the president ,and Miss Lizzie Hancock, of Newbern, the secretary, acted as secretary. The handsome new Methodist church was filled to overflowing.

The programme consisted of devotional exercises conducted by Rev. B. C. Thompson, of Goldsboro; the addresses of welcome made by Hon. H. D. Hatch, representing the city; Rev. M. H. Tuttle, representing the churches; Mr. E. D. Fuller, representing the local league and the Y. M. C. A. The response was made by Mr. I. W. Medlin, of Newbern. After these exercises an informal reception was held at the church.

The conferenoe will continue through Sunday. The programme for Thursday, begins with devotional exercises at 6:30 in the morning, conducted by Rev. D. H. Tuttle, of Burlington. At 10 o'clock, Miss Lizzie Hancock will make an address on League Problems, after which institute for devotional departments will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Buffalo. Following this the reports from the various districts will be made, after which Miss Gertrude Royster will conduct an institute on Culture and Recreation, which will conclude the exercises for Thursday.

The attendance for the first session was the largest in the history of the League.

PRETTY WEDDING LAST NIGHT.

Miss Harriet E. Wolff Bride of Mr. Jesse Marshall.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at 9 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Wolff, No. 1019 South Front street, when their daughter, Miss Harriet E. Wolff, became the bride of Mr. Jesse Marshall, of this city. Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. A. E. Cumber and Miss Annie Wolff and Mr. John F. Wolff and Miss Estelle Gore. The ceremony was witnessed by quite a large gathering of friends and relatives. The bride wore a handsome dress of silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas.

After the ceremony an informal reception was given and many friends had the opportunity of congratulating the happy couple. Delightful refreshments were served.

Mr. Marshall is in the government service, and just now is located at Washington, N. C. He has a ten days leave of absence, and at the end of that time he will return to Washington to finish his work there, afterwards returning to Wilmington. The bride will continue to make her home with her parents here.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF CAPE FEAR ACADEMY.

Pupils Given Certificates Yesterday by Prof. Washington Catlett.

The Cape Fear Academy closed its 42nd annual session yesterday morning when certificates were given to the pupils by the principal, Prof. Washington Catlett, who has been at the head of the school for 38 years, to those pupils who have shown proficiency in their studies during the term and have passed their examinations. In the past ten days examinations have been in progress.

Following is a list of the pupils receiving certificates, their names being in the order of excellence First and second class, George Thomas Sternberger, Marvin B. Register, Harris P. Newman, Thos. T. Stone, W. H. Shearin, Jr.; third class, Marsden B. Register, Jno. F. Gaylord, W. S. Sanders, LeR. E. Crump, Rudolph Sanders, Franklin Poe, Knight Davis, Theodore Hashagen; fourth and intermediate class, Leonard Schultz, Robert W. Farmer, Sim A. Schloss, Jos. H. McKoy, G. Herbert Smith, Jr., Harris Stone, H. J. Oottoway, C. L. Fales.

Professor Catlett emphasized in a short address to the pupils that the leading factors in success are punctuality, regularity and manly deportment. The following pupils are on the honor roll for having shown excellence in one or more of these qualities: Marvin Register, no demerits and never late in two years; Knight Davis, absent four times in three years from sickness and never late in three years; Marsden DeRosset, absent twice in two years and never late in three years; John Gaylord, not late in two years.

The pupils that have not been late: George Sternberger, one year; Otto Jordan, L. E. Crump and Alfred Sternberger, two years; Knight Davis, Julius Sternberger and Marsden DeRosset, three years.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MILAN.

Services Conducted from Residence of Son Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza New Milan, whose death occurred Tuesday afternoon at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, was held from the residence of her son, Mr. Geo. M. Milan, No. 518 Brunswick street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, assisted by Rev. G. W. McClanahan, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

of his "ultra-pacificist policy." They express the belief that President Wilson will now adopt a more energetic attitude toward Germany and even take recourse in grave measures, including the rupture of diplomatic relations between the tw ocountries if Germany does not give satisfaction to the American demands.

against the admission of any bank which would be a source of weakness rather than of strength and to prescribe such regulations governing their conduct as will insure a reasonable conformity to fundamental principles deemed essential to the success of the new banking system."

Those Eligible to Join.

The regulations make eligible banks and trust companies incorporated under state law, having paid up capital of $25,000, in towns of 3,000 or less; $50,000 in towns of from 3,000 to 6,000; $100,000 in towns of from six to fifty thousand, and $200,000 in cities of more than fifty thousand. Such banks would be allowed to ask for Reserve Bank stock to the amount of 6 per cent of the capital and surplus of the applying bank. Then the application would be investigated by a committee consisting of the District Federal Reserve agent, the governor of the Reserve Bank, and a director of the Reserve Bank, whose recommendation would be submitted to the Federal Reserve Board.

MORE MIDSHIPMEN RAE NOW FACING CHARGES

after the last examination in modern languages.

Commander Traut's testimony as to the course of procedure by the board of investigation, of which he was president, was that only those midshipmen were called in who were supposed either to have in their possession the original papers received by Moss, or to have seen them. There undoubtedly were a number, he said, who had fragments and recognized some questions as identical with the actual examination questions. But it would have been a difficult matter to prove that this was not merely a coincidence.

Asked why he did not summon all midshipmen who might have known after they saw the examination papers in class room that the "dope" they had in their possession was improper information on the examination, the commander replied: "That I cannot say."

He explained, however, that Admiral Fullam, superintendent of the Academy had been informed of all the circumstances in connection with the matter.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN NOW PRIVATE CITIZEN, AND GIVES THE REASON

cans to keep off vessels subject to attack.

"I thing, too, that American passenger ships should be prohibited from carrying ammunitions. The lives of passengers ought not to be endangered by cargoes of ammunition whether that danger comes from possible explasions within or from possible attacks from without. Passengers and ammunition should not travel together. The attempt to prevent American citizens from incurring these risks in entirely consistent with the effort which our government is making to prevent attacks from submarines.

Use Both Remedies.

"The use of one remedy does not exclude the use of the other. The most familiar illustration is to be found in the actio ntaken by municipal authorities during a riot. It is the duty of the mayor to suppress the mob and prevent violence but he does not hesitate to warn citizens to keep off the streets during the riots. He does not question their right to use the streets, but for their own protection and in the interest of order he warns them not to incur the risks involved in going upon the streets when men are shooting at each other.

"The President does not feel justified in taking the action above suggested; That is, he does not feel justified, first, in suggesting the submission of the controversy to investigation or second, in warning the people not to incur the extra hazards in traveling on belligerent ships or on ships carrying ammunition. And he may be right in the position he has taken, but as a p rivate citizen, I am free to urge both of these propositions and to call public attention to these remedies in the hope of securing such an expression of public sentiment as will support the President in employing these remedies, if, in the future, he finds it consistent with his sense of dueyt to favor them."

Issued as Note Sent.

The issuance of the explanation had been timed to coninicide exactly with the despatch of the American note to Germany. Mr. Bryan had previously informed some officials of the character of the statement. All of them stood with the President.

The retiring secretary left the State Department shortly after 1 o'clock. The note was put on the telegraph wires at 2 o'clock, when Mr. Bryan's resignation went into effect.

From the State Department Mr. Bryan went to the White House, where President Wilson received him. For 15 minutes the President and Mr. Bryan talked, exchanging words of farewell. The secretary was making his last official call on the President, but, nevertheless, the personal element was apparent.

Cordially and without any trace of feeling, the two men talked of the situation which resulted in Mr. Bryan's resignation. Each spoke dispassionately of the differences and of his belief that the other was doing what he thought best for the United States.

Those who saw them togethet were touched with the incident. Each spoke of his regret at severing official relations.

Finally, Mr. Bryan remarked that he knew the President was a busy man, and that he would not detain him longer. The two men who have stood together during the last two years in one crisis after another, rose to their feet simultaneously and clasped hands.

"God Bless You."

"God bless you," said each as their hands touched.

Before leaving his office, Mr. Bryan bade farewell to the State Department employes.

MANY OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

Situation Brought to Attention of City Council Yesterday Morning. Members Contribute.

Lack of employment is again bringing about an acute situation in Wilmington, according to the representations made to City Council at the weekly meeting yesterday morning, when members of Council personally subscribed some $15 or $20 to the relief of a few needy cases brought to their attention.

Councilman Bradshaw, in charge of the department of streets and wharves, informed Council that a large number of able-bodied hardiworking men in the city are unable to find employment, and their families are actually suffering for want of food. He has been approached every day by numbers of men wanting work. Councilman Merritt said that numbers sought employment at his place of business each day, and that there appeared to be no work to be had in the city.

A suggestion that the city undertake to create employment for 30 days brought the statement from Councilman McCaig that while he was thoroughly in sympathy with any movement to aid those out of work, the city was not financially in position to do anything. He mentioned that the city has a note for $100,000 falling due shortly, and that an additional $100,000 will have to be borrowed to meet current expenses during the summer. Last year, he said, the city spent $100,000 in excess of its revenue, in addition to the bond issue.

Mention was made that work will begin on the new High School building in the near future, and that the buildings on the site of the present customs house are to be torn away, and will probably furnish work for a number of men for a short time. Mention was also made of the failure of Mr. S. P. Collier to remove a building on Grace street, near Front, which Council had considered condemning, and Council may decide to remove the structure and assess the cost against the owner.

A committee from Council will probably meet with the directors of the Associated Charities and try to map out some plan to induce citizens to aid in creating work for the unemployed.

GERMANY CALLED UPON TO TOE THE LINE BY AMERICA

ed. It was declared by some officials familiar with the contents of the document that it would not necessarily lead to war, and that such a contingency could arise only if there was a repetition of attacks on American lives and vessels.

It was indicated that failure to secure reparation for the Lusitania might mean severance of diplomatic relations, but that hostilities would be precipitated only by warlike acts on the part of Germany.

PUBLIC MEETING OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mr. J. O. Carr Will Deliver Address on Educational Conditions.

J. O. Carr, Esq., chairman of the Board of Education of New Hanover county, will make an address on local educational conditions at the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. This will be the first meeting since Mr. L. E. Hall was elected president. The public, including the ladies, is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of the city schools, was invited to speak, also, but is unable to do so on account of being out of the city at this time.

The address by Mr. Carr will be of particular interest to citizens of the city. He will tell something of what has been done, and what is proposed to be accomplished by the Board of Education in the way of enlarging and expanding the schools of the city and county.

JIM HILL IS LOCATED.

Negro With Lame Leg, Who Could Run Fast Enough, is Arrested.

Jim Hill, a colored convict, who escaped several months ago, has been arrested in New York. At the camp here the negro said his leg was lame, and the physicians said that he was. However, when he found an opportunity to leave the camp, he was able to run fast enough to elude the officers. He was arrested by several policemen in Wilmington before serving on the roads and put up such a strong resistance that he had to be shot through the leg before he could be arrested.

Sheriff Cowan received a telegram yesterday from the police department of New York that he had been arrested. He has before received telegrams stating that the same Jim Hill had been arrested in Georgetown and other places, but investigation always showed that the wrong man had been arrested.

CANNING DEMONSTRATION.

Women's Improvement Club of Myrtle Grove Holds Interesting Meeting.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Improvement Club of Myrtle Grove yesterday an interesting canning demonstration was conducted by Mr. J. P. Herring, county farm demonstrator, and Mr. Jones, of the Home Canning Company. The meeting was largely attended and the demonstration was a great success.

Mr. Herring made a short address on canning in which he explained the splendid results to be obtained from the use of canning outfits.

Alleged Vagrants Arrested.

Louise Williams and Nora Harrison, both white, were arrested by Plainclothesman Leon George, at 12th and Orange streets, late yesterday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. They were kept at the police station last night and will be arraigned before the Recorder this morning.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

K. C. F. asks: "Will you tell me how to get my hands white and soft? They have become rough and are so dark in contrast to my arms." The method mentioned in reply to Eloise should bring the desired results; wear gloves to prevent soiling the bed linen.

D. N. A. writes: "How can I reduce a double chin? Also how get rid of crow's feet?" Use a wash lotion prepared by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. This tightens the skin, tending to disperse wrinkles as well as flabbiness about the chin or elsewhere.

Eloise says: "My freckles are worse than ever this year, made doubly conspicuous by a pallid complexion. Is there any cure?" Ask your druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax, apply nightly like cold cream, removing in the morning with warm water. As the wax gradually absorbs the lifeless cuticle, not only will the freckles vanish, but the new and younger skin which appears will have a healthy color. Probably you will need to continue treatment a couple weeks or so.—Woman's Realm.
